

The simplest way to save on your household bills

Keeping it simple

Saving on your household bills is simple when you combine energy, broadband and mobile into one monthly bill. That's because with UW, the more services you take, the more you save.

Join over one million people already bundling with us.

Utility Warehouse Price Pledge

We're so confident that absolutely anyone can save money with UW, that we promise any new customer taking three or more of our services, as well as the UW Cashback Card, will save money in their first year.

And if they don't save, we'll pay them double the difference and let them leave without any exit fees.

Help to leave

Get £400 towards early termination fees with your current suppliers*.

We handle the switch

We'll sort your energy switch in as little as two days.

30 days to change your mind

Get peace of mind, with no pressure or penalties.

Winning year in, year out

Consistently recognised by independent consumer champions Which?, Uswitch and Moneyfacts including over 90 awards – and counting – in the last decade.

*£400 to help you switch: When you switch at least three of your services (one must be energy): energy, broadband, mobile and one additional SIM and you are a new customer, we'll give you credit up to £400 towards any termination fees you have to pay your current providers. You'll need to return any equipment and pay for services you used before you cancel. Additional requirements apply to customers who are tenants.

30 days to change your mind: Available when a new customer switches at least two of their services on the same date: energy, broadband and mobile. Any equipment must be returned and services used must be paid for before cancelling.
